

FIRE HITS HISTORIC TREVOSE INN

Second Floor Room Guttled By Flames

Several Firemen Overcome While Extinguishing Blaze

County and local fire officials today are investigating a fire which last night gutted a second floor room of Becker's historic Tally-Ho Inn, Trevose road at the Pennsylvania turnpike.

Several firemen were treated for smoke inhalation and another was sent to the hospital with a nail in his foot.

Trevose Fire Company was called to the boarded-up building at 9:30 p.m. and had the fire under control within 15 minutes. Other fire companies called to the scene included Feasterville, Trevose Heights, Penglund and Langhorne.

Taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital with a nail in his foot was Martin Goldenberger, a member of the Trevose Fire Co. Three ambulances of Trevose Heights Rescue Squad stood by at the fire, and squad members treated several firemen for smoke inhalation.

Members of Trevose Fire Co. who received oxygen and first aid for smoke inhalation and cuts were:

George Roeschen, chief; Don

Roberts, assistant chief; John Tarbutton, Edward Smith, Morton Hellings and Al Johnson, all oxygen; John Thorpe, cut hand, and William Jorden, lacerated finger.

After extinguishing the blaze, which burned through the floor of the room, charred the walls and scorched the ceiling, the Trevose company stood by until 1:30 a.m.

The fire, according to the Trevose company, was confined to the one room.

Chartered by King

The Tally-Ho Inn, which was chartered by King George and is one of the oldest in the county, was closed and boarded up in 1953, when the turnpike was constructed.

Cause of the fire is still undetermined, and damage was not estimated. A probe was ordered when it was discovered several boards were removed from across the front door.

County Fire Marshal Raymond Strunk will assist in the investigation.

Fire broke out in the damaged room on the second floor, above the staircase. The room was empty of furnishings.

Good Evening!

Social Security age lowered from 65 to 62—for women.

Senate wise, in this respect. Maybe wiser if they also put down the age for men. Lot of us just getting weary working.

And not much question about House concurrence and approval. The Democrats did a smoothie on that one in this very important election year.

It would seem the Bensalem citizens are on the warpath, what with a half dozen civic organizations supporting a full-scale investigation into the kind of apparently slipshod government administration they've been getting.

A good idea for public-spirited people to get their dander up. We'd like to see it happen in a half dozen other townships and boroughs in Lower Bucks. A lot of these administrative methods—from the county administration at Doylestown down are needing the spotlight of intelligent inquiry.

Summer continues on the gentle, enjoyable side.

All we hope is that we can get through the upcoming hurricane season without the trees tumbling. Who knows? Maybe we will.

Metropolitan Opera drops its 1956-57 season because of labor trouble and it's a crying shame.

We've come to a rather sorry state in this country of ours when a lot of these well-padded labor boys, always looking for the fast and easy buck, begin getting their fingers into the cultural aspects of society.

The Indians had it better. No taxes, no TV, no highway tragedy, no strikes, no Communists, no nothing. All they had to do was to keep their eagle eye on their scalps.

He: "I bet you think I'm a perfect idiot."
She: "Oh, none of us is perfect."

A lot of women look like they had been poured into a dress, and that somebody had forgotten to say when.

Watch your driving.

Investigation Planned By Committee

Six Groups Organize To Probe Operations Of Township Affairs

Representatives of six organizations last night formed a steering committee to set up a program to investigate actions of the Bensalem township supervisors.

The 13-man committee will lay out organization plans for investigating the operation of municipal affairs by the supervisors.

The committee will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the Tryon appliance store, Andalusia. The six groups themselves will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Ostremski Hall, Eddington.

Attending the meeting last night were representatives of Ellerslie, Torresdale Manor, Echo Beach, Stanwood Homes and Nottingham Village civic and improvement associations and the Sub-Contractors' association, which has county-wide membership.

John T. McGlinchy, Sub-Contractors president, said the probe will be based on information supplied by township auditors Chester Korona, James Strange and Frank T. Buck. McGlinchy presided at last night's session.

Political Outburst

Most of the meeting was taken up by the auditors, who repeated previous accusations about the supervisors.

A brief political outburst was quickly terminated. Chester Korona, chairman of the auditors, accused the supervisors of "a lack of planning and much waste and duplication," in municipal affairs.

The auditors said that when they examined the books of the township they found "no accurate records, no tax records before 1954" and that "$90,000 was spent on highways last year, yet no detailed records were kept by the roadmaster or supervisors as to where the money went."

Auditing Heavy

In addition to lack of information on road repairs, the auditors said, "As a matter of fact, the

Village Gets Fire Number

Nottingham residents should report fires by telephoning Mercury 9-4500, the same number used from other communities in the Mercury exchange area.

The dispatcher in the Bensalem township municipal building will immediately alert the Nottingham sub-station of the Eddington Fire Co. with a direct wire to a siren in the new community.

The sub-station has been in operation six weeks, a spokesman said, under the direction of Capt. Al Clark. An Eddington fire engine is housed in his carport on Kingston Way. Some 16 Nottingham residents are volunteer firemen in the sub-station.

Maple View Terrace Hears Ballfield Is Nearly Ready

Members of Maple View Terrace Residents' Association were told at a meeting last night that the new recreation field adjacent to the Kopper Kettle, Bridgetown pike and Bristol road, is partially completed.

President Thomas Mawhinney said that one baseball diamond is already completed and that work on a softball field has begun. The field is owned by George Roberts, operator of the Kopper Kettle, and was donated to the Feasterville residents for use as a recreation field.

The ballfield was built with farm equipment owned by Roberts and by labor of the residents, Mawhinney said.

The group also discussed formation of a boys' team, and the boys will meet for the second time tomorrow evening at the field.

Today's Weather

Partly cloudy today with highest 74-79. Fair and cool tonight with lowest 55-62. Tomorrow, fair with little temperature change.

Protest Meeting

Representatives of five civic associations and the Sub-Contractors' Association are pictured above attending a meeting last night at Ostremski Hall, Eddington. After hearing accusations by township auditors, a steering committee was named to investigate the operation of municipal affairs by Bensalem township supervisors. Represented were Ellerslie, Torresdale Manor, Echo Beach, Stanwood Homes and Nottingham Village civic and improvement associations. (Courier and Times Photos)

Negotiations Resume In Steel Strike

Government Eases 'Freeze' On Supply To Civilian Producers

PITTSBURGH — UP — The steel industry's Big Three, back after a one-day secret conference in New York, resumed negotiations with the Steelworkers today to end the 18-day strike.

There was nothing to indicate either side would substantially alter its position.

John A. Stephens, vice president of U. S. Steel Corp. and chief industry negotiator, said yesterday's management conference was called to give its officials a hard look at the issues of the strike and not to draw up any new contract proposal.

Closed Door Session

The closed door session in New York was described as a "review" conference which was attended by the presidents or chairmen of 12 major steel companies.

Big Three negotiators — the U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel corporations — reported on "the whole picture" of the deadlock to the heads of the nine other steel producers.

The government announced yesterday it will ease its "freeze" on steel in warehouses to give

Charges Probed

Belardley Group To Check Permits

A special committee of Bristol Township Commissioners last night promised to make available all information on sidewalk permits issued in the Belardley tract area at a meeting with a group of residents.

The residents claimed that some contractors putting in sidewalks and curbs in the area had obtained permits without charge or didn't have permits at all.

The committee headed by Commissioner Albert H. Rogers showed the residents, headed by Mrs. Malcolm Blue of 3510 Llamberis avenue, all the permits that had been issued for sidewalks in that area.

The residents went over the permits but since they didn't know the names and lot numbers of property owners who had put in curbs they will make a survey and check at a later date to see if permits had been issued.

Sitting on the committee with Rogers were John S. Gallagher, Eugene Kehoe and Lawrence Mervine, members of the Building and Zoning Committee.

Gallagher said the group raised a question of the $5 fee for side-

Little Mike Loses Sight

ORLANDO, Fla. — UP — Mike Sibole, at four, the victim of eye cancer, entered a world of lifelong darkness today with the memories of a world of beauty in his heart.

The slip of a boy with the courage of a man was swatched in a hospital jacket and wheeled into the operating room of pleasant Holiday House Hospital at 9 a.m. (EDT). There a doctor took out Mike's only eye to save the boy's life from spreading cancer of the retina.

It was believed that Mike had been told the bad news shortly before he was brought to the hospital.

The operation lasted just 41 minutes after which the unconscious boy was wheeled to his room.

"He took it very well," the surgeon said. "He was just as nice as he could be."

A reporter asked if the operation was a success.

The doctor replied wearily: "We accomplished what we set out to accomplish if you can call that a success."

The doctor expects the patient to be up by tomorrow. The boy's right eye was covered by a bandage as he was rolled out of the operating room.

Trevose Guild Cancels Meeting

A meeting of the Trevose Dramatic Guild scheduled for this evening at the home of Mrs. Barbara Glover has been canceled. Date for a new meeting will be announced later.

L'town, N. J. First Homes Date Slated

The first homes in Levittown, N. J., are expected to be ready for occupancy in September of 1957, it was reported today.

An administration building and three sample homes nearby may be ready in February of next year.

The proposed 17,000-home community will be located entirely in Willingboro township, covering some 4,000 acres of land. Recent legislation has made possible a shifting of municipality boundaries there, placing the proposed development in one township.

The administration building reportedly will be located on the east side of Copic lane, facing Route 130, on the Joseph Snyder farm. The sample homes are expected to be built on the west side of Copic lane on the Quentin Walton farm.

The first houses for occupancy are reportedly planned for the Robert Stuart farm near the present Willingboro Township school. A huge wooded section nearby has been cleared by bulldozers.

No Profit in Rent, L'towner Discovers

Renting a Levittown home has proved to be more expensive than profitable for a former Levittown resident.

Louis Ostrin returned to his home at 83 Everturn lane last week to find not only his tenants gone, but several hundred dollars worth of bedding and linen as well.

The Ostrins moved to Miami Beach, Fla., about a year ago. They rented their fully furnished rancher style home to several families since, with apparent success until this incident.

Ostrin came back to Levittown last week to see how things were going and to decide whether or not to sell the house.

Checking around, he found numerous articles missing, drapes from their rods, furniture, including a $400 television set broken, sliding curtains ruined, and general abuse to a number of items.

Yesterday, Ostrin filed larceny charges by bailee with Justice of the Peace John Melvin for the missing bedding and linen.

He was unable to accurately estimate the loss until consulting with his wife who did not make the trip from Miami Beach. He roughly figured the items were worth several hundred dollars. The only bedding left were two bedspreads on the beds.

A warrant is out for the arrest of Charles and Jo Ann Staub, the former tenants.

Lt. Julius Meszaros of the Falls township police force is handling the case.

Police Dispute Three Treated After Crash

Bristol Township officials are investigating a reported dispute between a police sergeant and patrolman growing out of the arrest of a Johnstown, Pa., man on a disorderly conduct charge.

The suspect, John Melker, was arrested at the Hillside Inn, Edgely, Saturday night by Patrolman Henry Scrocca and taken before JP Rene Tritschler, of Croydon. Melker was subsequently fined $50 and costs.

But according to reports Scrocca and Sgt. Harry Bauer, who was also at the scene, disagreed over the arrest of Melker and each have filed charges against the other with police officials.

Yesterday Police Chief John R. Stewart refused to comment on the reports except to say that an investigation was being made. He wouldn't say who was doing the investigating or what if any charges had been filed. "This is an inter-departmental matter," the chief concluded.

Harold Lefcourt, chairman of the Safety Committee, was unavailable for comment.

Issue OK'd For Building Of New School

Bensalem Township school board and school authority last night accepted bids on a $940,000 bond issue for construction of an elementary school at Nottingham Village.

According to C. Burnley White, authority chairman, both groups agreed to accept the bid of Stroud and company, Philadelphia, on the above bond issue at slightly under three-and-a-half percent interest.

He said the bonds are to be prepared and delivered before Aug. 31 and that the bond bid was accepted last night with amendments by the township groups.

Aug. 10 Date

White said the $940,000 bond issue is to be paid off over a 30-year period.

Contracts for the construction of the Samuel Faust elementary school, to be built at Richlieu and Street roads, will be awarded on Aug. 10.

The bids on the construction of the school were received by the school board and authority on June 28. They totaled $763,085, and actual construction was scheduled for next month. The school is hoped to be completed by September, 1957.

The general contract was awarded to James Turzo and Sons for $533,700.

Heating Bid

A heating bid of $103,390 was awarded to American Sanitary Sales and Service Co., and plumbing awards went to C. E. Williams Co., for $72,727. The electrical contract was awarded to A and B Electrical Contractors for $53,268.

The Faust school will serve about 600 students, most of whom live in Nottingham Village. It will contain 18 rooms.

Construction of the school depends on whether the state approves the project, Robert K. Shafer, district superintendent, said earlier this month.

Shafer said the accepted bids run about $100,000 over the amount allotted by the state.

He said if the school isn't completed by the fall of 1957 it will mean double sessions for the Cornwells Heights school.

Turnpike Tire Crackdown Set

BEDFORD, Pa.—UP—State police along the entire stretch of the Pennsylvania Turnpike have opened war on "bald" tires as one of the primary causes of highway accidents.

Capt. Singleton Shaffer of Turnpike Headquarters here said the drive was spurred by a recent rash of blowouts including three accidents in which four persons were killed. The accidents occurred in a three-day period at Reading, Bedford and Irwin.

Shaffer said an inspection of the wrecked vehicles at Reading and Irwin disclosed the tires were "completely bald."

"We have found out that our worst enemies at this time of the tourist season are lack of sleep and bad tires," he said.

Shaffer said the crackdown order was similar to one issued at this time last year.

Bucks Residents To Turn Critics of CD Broadcast

Bucks County's will be shrilled to a halt Friday afternoon in the nation-wide civil defense exercise. Later, they'll turn radio critics to report on the effectiveness of the Conelrad Civil Defense Broadcast.

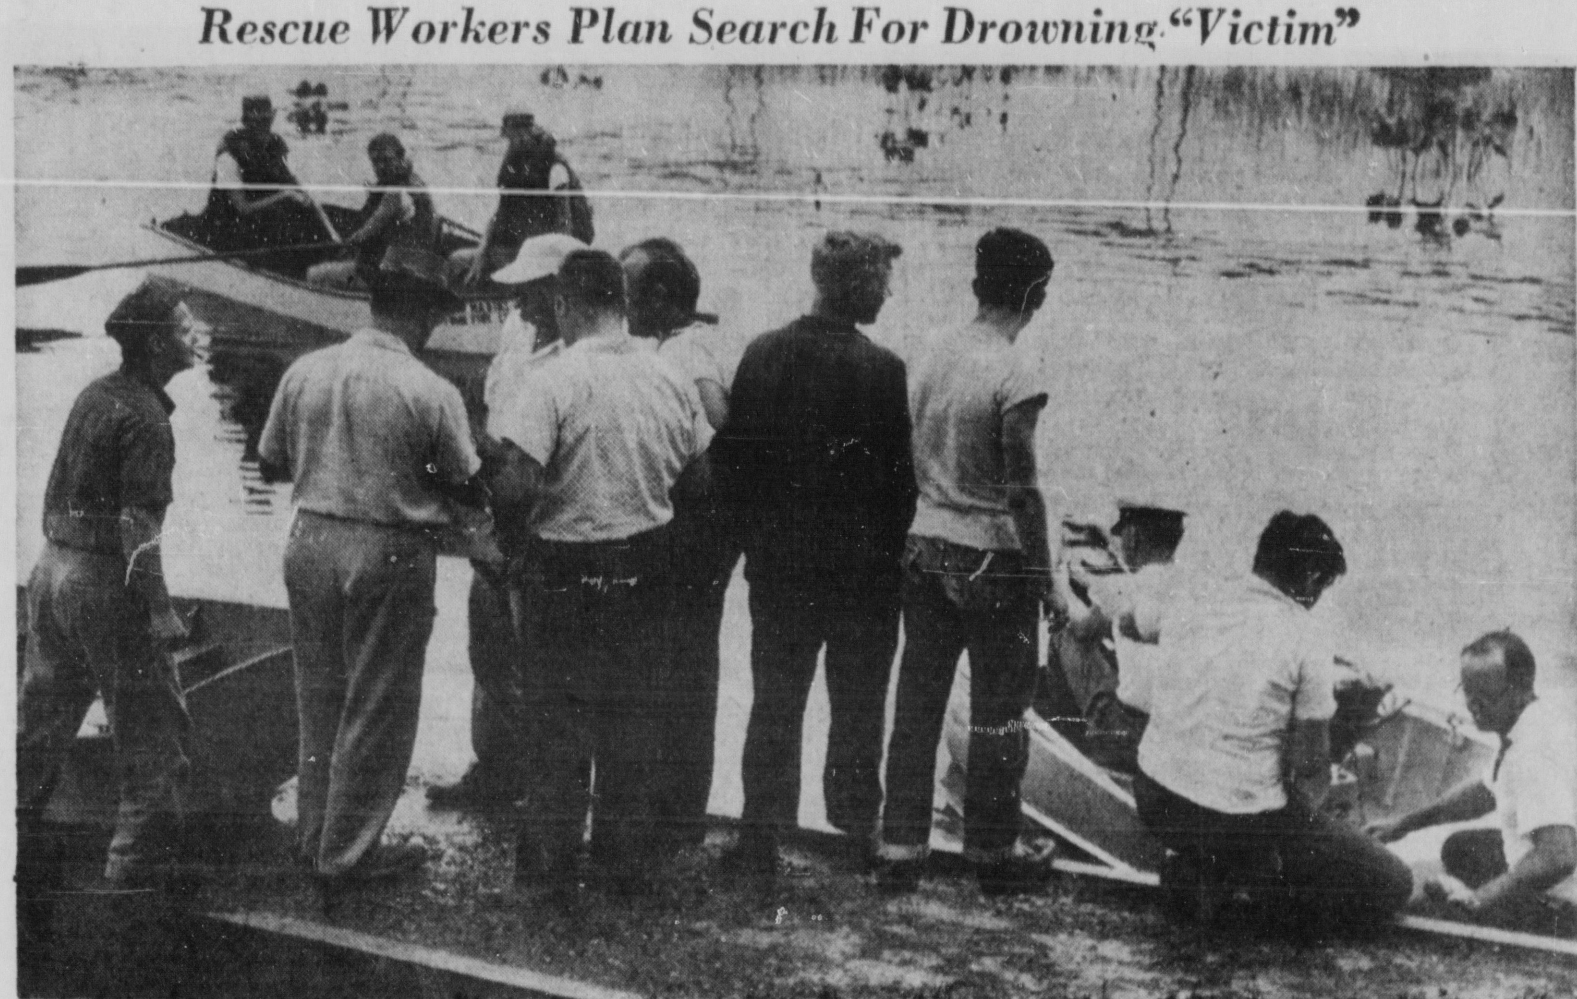

Col. A. M. Heritage, County CD director, said the Red warning, a signal to "take cover," will be sounded at 1:55 p.m. Friday. A three-minute wailing sound on the sirens, the signal will direct all persons off the streets, into shelter areas.

The White "Alert" signal will be given at 2:05 p.m. by a three to five-minute steady blast. In this test it will signal the end of the drill. In an actual enemy attack, the White signal means "stay put until it is safe to come out."

Persons in their homes or in public buildings when the signal sounds must draw the window blinds, curtains and shades.

Colonel Heritage said. Automobiles must stop, on the Red signal, pulling to the side of the road and leaving a lane clear for traffic.

Conelrad, the Civil Defense radio, will be the only broadcast on the air from 4:10 to 4:25 p.m. Lower Bucks County residents have been asked to report to state Civil Defense headquarters on its reception. A form that can be used for this purpose has appeared in the Bristol Courier and Levittown Times.

Investigation Planned By Committee

township does not have any records to show what roads it owns.

Korona, only elected auditor, and the two appointed auditors began work on township books in late February. The audit deadline was March 1, but because of the volume, they asked assistance from the state and got it. However, the state refused to give an extension of the deadline, although they promised to have a state representative return to help the local auditors.

The auditors clashed with the supervisors when they failed to approve payment of a $5,000 salary to a township building inspector.

Korona charged that they were "locked out" of the township building after the clash over the building inspector. Earlier this week, the supervisors reportedly were to inform the auditors by mail that they could resume examination of township books.

The auditors charged last night that although there are stacks of bills and receipts on hand, no books have been kept regarding expenditures.

They said when they complete an audit of the books, it will be printed in book form and they will be responsible for information it contains.

According to Vincent Cooke, president of the Torresdale Manor Improvement Association, everyone at the meeting last night assumed a "questioning attitude," and the auditors were the only ones discussing the supervisors.

He said he felt the purpose of a "citizens' committee" was a "very good thing."

2 Cars Collide At Intersection

An intersection collision was caused yesterday afternoon when two cars collided at Beaver and Prospect avenues, Bristol.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Anthony Piazza, 41, of 922 Wood street, Bristol, attempted to make a turn into Prospect avenue and collided with a vehicle driven by James Harris Sr., 67, of 9 Iris road, Indian Creek, Levittown.

Patrolman William Burns and Gaspar Favoroso said the damage to both cars was considered minor.

Work Date Set For New School

Construction of the $2,000,000 Junior High school planned for the Levittown section of Middletown Township should begin in November, Charles Tetlow, township school board president said today.

Completion is scheduled for early in 1958. It will accommodate 800 students.

Mr. Tetlow said further plans could now be made because a spokesman for the Neshaunim Joint School board had informed him the township could build the school alone.

Middletown is a member of the Joint board. A long dispute as to which group should build the school was apparently hampering arrangements to go ahead.

The meeting was called by Fred Hibbs, a member of the township Safety committee who is attempting to "get the program on its feet" following the resignation of Stanley Zober, former director.

Mr. Hibbs reported that the group went over about ten applications for the director's post and reviewed the status of CD organization.

He said the communications group is still intact from the former CD organization. This, he said, is being handled by a group of ham radio operators. Also, he said, some auxiliary police have been carried over from the old CD group.

Under the new organization the township fire companies and first aid and emergency groups will be co-ordinated with the CD program. He explained that they will remain separate groups but co-operate with CD personnel during alerts.

Rescue Units Drag River As 'Victim' Seeks Lost Boat

Two search parties — one who found a drifting speed boat and were dragging the Delaware River for the owner and the other who found the "victim" very much alive and were looking for his boat—finally got together yesterday afternoon and solved each other's problem.

More than 150 rescue workers from at least 15 rescue units in Lower Bucks County and New Jersey dragged a 4 mile stretch of the river for three hours in search of the body of Lawrence Scheel, 67, of 156 Hillcrest avenue, Croydon Manor.

The search was started after Scheel's boat was found drifting down the river off Echo Beach, Bensalem Township with its motor dragging loose in the water a little before noon.

The boat was spotted by Kathy Barford, 10, of 335 Wallace avenue, Cornwells Heights. She called Charles Kritiz, of 2075 River road, Echo Beach, who rowed out and towed the boat 150 yards to shore.

Kritiz found two fishing rods and reels and a bucket of bait in the boat. The motor, was dragging in the water held only by its electric wires.

He called Bensalem police who learned that the boat was owned by Scheel. Upon learning that Scheel had left Monday night and hadn't yet returned home police called in the Bucks County Rescue Squad. The squad immediately summoned help from other units of the Interstate Marine association and dragging operations started in the river about 1:30 p.m.

At that same moment, a bewildered Scheel turned up in the Delanco Township, N. J., police headquarters to report that he couldn't find his speed boat and that he thought it had been stolen.

Patrolman Robert Taylor immediately set the wheels in motion to recover the missing property. But before the search was fully underway Taylor remembered the report that Pennsylvania officials had found a drifting boat and were looking for the owner.

He then informed the squad that he had the owner. It was a few minutes before 5 p.m. that the dragging operations were ended and the weary rescue workers sent home.

Goes Fishing

Scheel told Patrolman Taylor that he had taken his boat out of Guerra's boat yard, Bridge-water, where he had just purchased it last Friday, at 8:30 p.m. Monday to do some fishing.

But instead, he said he started watching a "sand sucker" dredging the river. As it got dark and he left for home, Scheel said, he lost his way and headed down stream. By the time he realized what had happened he ran out of gasoline.

The boat drifted into shore off Delanco and Scheel said he tied it up and slept in it all night. He woke up at 6 a.m. yesterday and went ashore for some gasoline and breakfast.

Searches Shore Line

When he returned an hour later the boat was gone. Scheel said he spent the rest of the morning searching the shore line for the boat. It wasn't until about 1:30 p.m. that he gave up the search and reported the loss to police.

Participating in the dragging operations were marine units from: Bucks County Rescue Squad, Bristol Emergency Squad, Fairless Hills, Cornwells, Union of Cornwells Heights, Croydon, Edgely, Tullytown, Newportville, Bristol Number Three and Six Fire Companies as well as units from Burlington, Palmyra and Beverly, N. J.

Eisenhower In Discussion With Cabinet

President Concerned By Economic Effects Of 18-Day Old Dispute

WASHINGTON — (UP) — President Eisenhower, concerned by its economic effects, discussed the 18-day-old steel strike today with cabinet members and other top federal officials.

After the meeting, the White House said Mr. Eisenhower was informed that strike negotiations will be resumed this afternoon and "both parties are determined to make every possible effort to reach an agreement at the earliest practicable time."

Murray Snyder, assistant White House Press Secretary, said he did not believe the meeting constituted presidential intervention in the steel dispute. He said the meeting was "a review."

Present at the conference were Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service; Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks; Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, and Sherman Adams, the assistant to the President.

Snyder said Finnegan gave the assurance that both parties "are determined to make every possible effort to reach an agreement at the earliest practicable time."

Asked whether Mr. Eisenhower is concerned about the strike Snyder said, "Anything that causes unemployment or an extended disturbance of the national economy is a matter of concern to the President."

Snyder said he knows of no White House plans to invoke the Taft-Hartley labor-management act to require a "cooling off" period in the steel dispute.

Mystery Developing Over Roses

How Mrs. Luce Got Arsenic Poisoning Is The Big Question

WASHINGTON — UP — Something very much resembling the mystery of the month seemed to be developing today in the story of blonde Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce and the arsenical Borgian roses in her boudoir.

Mrs. Luce, U. S. ambassador to Italy, is suffering from arsenic poisoning. And the question arises: How did she get it?

According to Time Magazine, of which Mrs. Luce's husband is editor-in-chief, the ambassador has been getting slow doses of arsenic from the bedroom ceiling of her 17th Century villa near Rome.

The "fallout" came from the Borgian white roses which adorn the ceiling of the room. It not only drifted into the air but got into Mrs. Luce's food and morning coffee, the magazine reported.

This, said Time, explains the recurring illness which Mrs. Luce has been suffering. Time credited agents of the Central Intelligence Agency with discovering the source of the poisonous particles.

LPRA Changes Asked; Incorporation Poll Set

Group To Test Reaction To Government

To Make 2 Percent Sampling of Residents In 4 Municipalities

The Levittown Civic Association will conduct an opinion poll of Levittown and the surrounding area to determine whether or not residents favor incorporation.

James McMenamin, a representative of Greater Levittown, Inc., requested the poll be made. He said plans are to have the poll completed in the next several weeks so that arrangements could be made to put the issue on a referendum ballot in the November elections.

He suggested that three questions be asked in the poll. Residents will be asked whether they prefer a third class city government, a borough, or wish to remain in the municipalities now existing.

The poll would be taken of approximately 2% of the total population in Levittown and surrounding municipalities that would be effected by an incorporated Levittown.

Details of conducting the poll will be worked out by the LCA with a chairman to be appointed by President Henry Lotto.

Less than 30 people attended the meeting.

McMenamin explained that Greater Levittown Inc. was made up of 40 stockholders, many of whom worked actively for incorporation two years ago.

Family Troubles

It was a family affair this morning as Middletown township police stopped 16 motorists in a speed trap on Durham road.

At 6:32 a.m. George Reis, of 21 Whitewood road, Whitewood, Levittown, was stopped by Middletown police when he was clocked at a speed of 50 miles per hour.

Six minutes later, Reis' stepfather, John Bowden, of the same address, was stopped for travelling 45 miles an hour in the same 35 mile an hour speed zone.

The two men along with 14 others motorists will receive summonses for speeding.

Sgt. Joseph Zalot and Patrolmen Henry Bazarte and Karl Kritzburger conducted the speed trap.

Curb Repairs Begin

Levitt and Sons, Inc. workmen began work this morning on curbs and sidewalks in the Levittown section of Falls Township. The firm announced yesterday it would fix the crumbled spots a survey had shown need repair. Falls Supervisors had requested the repairs saying "the curbs and sidewalks had deteriorated in too brief a time." (Courier and Times Photo)

Dedicated Purpose

Marine's Attorney Disclaims Sadism

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. — UP — A court martial was told today that Marine Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon led his recruit platoon into a tidal stream where six drowned "not for sadistic pleasure but for the dedicated purpose of making Marines."

When McKeon saw panic sweep over the outfit when one man slipped in the water, he risked his own life repeatedly in an effort to save every one, McKeon's attorney said.

"The first man in was the last man out," the lawyer said.

The issue of how stiff Leatherneck training should be thus was made the chief defense for the 31-year-old drill instructor who was on trial for manslaughter and cruelty in one of the most celebrated military trials in recent history.

Workers Get Back Pay

Payment of back wages to central operations workers of the Fairless Works who missed payroll Saturday and Monday was continued today at the guard house of the Pennsylvania avenue plant gate. National Tube Division employees will be paid tomorrow from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 p.m., next to the Mill Gate Restaurant, Pennsylvania avenue.

Union officials said Friday will be the last day for idle Fairless workers to register for surplus food at 35 Union street, Morrisville. Registration will be taken tomorrow and Friday from 9 a.m. to noon.

The steelworkers who have registered were urged to pick up the yellow identification slips before Friday afternoon. No further registration will be taken at the union office after Friday, but when the food is delivered, additional steelworkers may sign up at the distribution point. So far, some 3500 have signed.

The time and location of the delivery have not been announced. The surplus food must be processed through federal, state and county offices. Oscar Booz, of Edgely, is surplus food administrator for the Bucks County Commissioners.

Swimming Guest Fees Are Sought

The Levittown Civic Association has recommended that the Levittown Public Association appoint an associate board and accept at least nine other recommendations which would considerably change the current recreational set-up.

LCA Study Committee Chairman Syd Charles said a meeting was held with the LPRA body and that the group seemed receptive to many of the recommendations. He said action on the recommendations might be made at an LPRA board meeting this week.

The committee asked that an associate board of 15 people be appointed, with women and LCA members included on the board.

The board would serve in an advisory capacity to the current board of trustees. It would debate various subjects relating to the business conducted by the trustees and provide technical information.

In general, he explained, it would act as a liaison group between the pool subscribers and the trustees.

Other recommendations provide for the activities of the associate board to be made public.

In addition, the committee suggests that planning for pool subscription begin in September and October with tag sales to be made in January.

The group also asked that a survey be made to determine whether more pools are needed and that land be set aside for proposed pool sites.

Guest Fee

A guest fee is proposed for non-residents who use the pools as guests of subscribers.

Pool concessions, now run by separate operators, will be studied for possible management directly by the LPRA.

Another recommendation calls for the LPRA financial report to be broken down and made public, after auditing by a public audit committee.

In addition, purchasing pool tags on an installment basis was suggested.

The Committee also asked that paid LPRA personnel be residents of Levittown, if qualified, with the exception of the life guards.

Two public meetings a year were proposed where subscribers may make recommendations or complaints directly to the Board of Trustees.

The current LPRA board has (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Joseph F. Finnegan, federal mediation chief who attended the session, said there is "no prospect, as of today" that the government will take action to end the strike under the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Boy, 11, Struck By Automobile

Garry Ferguson, 11, of 221 Brentwood road, Fairless Hills, suffered a possible concussion at 11:20 a.m. today when he was struck by an automobile while riding his bicycle on Hood boulevard, near the swimming pool.

The child was taken to the Lower Bucks County hospital where he was admitted for treatment.

The Bucks County Rescue Squad transported the injured boy.

Good Evening!

Social Security age lowered from 65 to 62—for women.

Senate wise, in this respect. Maybe wiser if they also pull down the age for men. Lot of us just getting weary working.

And not much question about House concurrence and approval. The Democrats did a smoothie on that one in this very important election year.

It would seem the Bensalem citizens are on the warpath, what with a half dozen civic organizations supporting a full-scale investigation into the kind of apparently slipshod government administration they've been getting.

A good idea for public-spirited people to get their dander up. We'd like to see it happen in a half dozen other townships and boroughs in Lower Bucks. A lot of these administrative methods—from the county administration at Doylestown down are needing the spotlight of intelligent inquiry.

Summer continues on the gentle, enjoyable side.

All we hope is that we can get through the upcoming hurricane season without the trees tumbling. Who knows? Maybe we will.

Metropolitan Opera drops its 1956-57 season because of labor trouble and it's a crying shame.

We've come to a rather sorry state in this country of ours when a lot of these well-padded labor boys, always looking for the fast and easy buck, begin getting their fingers into the cultural aspects of society.

The Indians had it better. No taxes, no TV, no highway tragedy, no strikes, no Communists, no nothing. All they had to do was to keep their eagle eye on their scalps.

He: "I bet you think I'm a perfect idiot."
She: "Oh, none of us is perfect."

A lot of women look like they had been poured into a dress. . . and that somebody had forgotten to say when.

Watch your driving.

Rescue Workers Plan Search For Drowning "Victim"

A group of volunteer rescue workers discuss plans for grappling operations in the search for Lawrence Scheel, of Croydon Manor, before setting out from Echo Beach, Bensalem Township. Scheel was believed drowned when his speed boat was found drifting down the river yesterday. The search was called off after three hours when he turned in at Delanco, N. J., police station to report the boat stolen. (Courier and Times photo)

Seeing Levittown

By LYDIA BOGANE

Plans for the annual Levittown Community Festival are being readied for next month. Levittown organizations are now planning their participation through information booths in the shopping center, displays and other programs.

Faith Murray of 1 Marigold Circle, vice president of the Levittown Players, will be featured on the Helen Coleman Radio Show tonight on WTMM in Trenton. She'll talk on Levittown recreation and little theatre. Show's on at 8 p.m.

Harry Flaherty of 188 Blue Ridge Drive has been having a great time whipping across Silver Lake in a small sailboat he built during the winter. He and his son, Tommy, were the envy of spectators last week end as a brisk wind took the craft along the water for fine sailing.

A couple of Levittown teenage boys are forsaking Levittown pools for ye ole swimming hole. The kids found a nearby creek that's just dandy for a long swing rope. They won't divulge the site because they want to keep the spot "exclusive."

Thomas Jefferson is slowly taking away from the popularity of the Davy Crockett tee shirts. The kids who go to Thomas Jefferson Elementary School proudly and more often can be seen around town sporting "Thomas Jefferson" in their chests.

Supervisors Under Fire

Representatives of six organizations last night formed a steering committee to set up a program to investigate actions of the Bensalem township supervisors.

The 13-man committee will lay out organization plans for investigating the operation of municipal affairs by the supervisors.

The committee will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the Tryon appliance store, Andalusia. The six groups themselves will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Ostremki Hall, Eddington.

Attending the meeting last night were representatives of Ellerslie, Torresdale Manor, Echo Beach, Stanwood Homes and Nottingham Village civic and improvement associations and the Sub-Contractors association, which has county-wide membership.

Rescue Units Drag River As 'Victim' Seeks Lost Boat

Two search parties — one who found a drifting speed boat and were dragging the Delaware River for the owner and the other who found the "victim" very much alive and were looking for his boat—finally got together yesterday afternoon and solved each other's problem.

More than 150 rescue workers from at least 15 rescue units in Lower Bucks County and New Jersey dragged a 4 mile stretch of the river for three hours in search of the body of Lawrence Scheel, 67, of 156 Hillcrest avenue, Croydon Manor.

The search was started after Scheel's boat was found drifting down the river off Echo Beach, Bensalem Township with its motor dragging loose in the water a little before noon.

Drifting Boat Spotted
The boat was spotted by Kathy Barford, 10, of 335 Wallace avenue, Cornwells Heights. She called Charles Kriz, of 2075 River road, Echo Beach, who rowed out and towed the boat 150 yards to shore.

Kriz found two fishing rods and reels and a bucket of bait in the boat. The motor, was dragging in the water held only by its electric wires.

He called Bensalem police who learned that the boat was owned by Scheel. Upon learning that Scheel had left Monday night and hadn't yet returned home police called in the Bucks County Rescue Squad. The squad immediately summoned help from other units of the Interstate Marine association and dragging operations started in the river about 1:30 p.m.

Reports Boat Missing
At that same moment, a bewildered Scheel turned up in the Delanco Township, N. J., police headquarters to report that he couldn't find his speed boat and that he thought it had been stolen.

Patrolman Robert Taylor immediately set the wheels in motion to recover the missing property. But before the search was fully underway Taylor remembered the report that Pennsylvania officials had found a drifting boat and were looking for the owner.

He called the Bucks County Rescue Squad headquarters and got a description of the boat they had found and discovered it was the one he was looking for. He then informed the squad that he had the owner. It was a few minutes before 5 p.m. that the dragging operations were ended and the weary rescue workers sent home.

Goes Fishing
Scheel told Patrolman Taylor that he had taken his boat out of Guerra's boat yard, Bridge-water, where he had just purchased it last Friday, at 8:30 p.m. Monday to do some fishing.

But instead, he said he started watching a "sand sucker" dredging the river. As it got dark and he left for home, Scheel said, he lost his way and headed down stream. By the time he realized what had happened he ran out of gasoline.

The boat drifted into shore off Delanco and Scheel said he tied it up and slept in it all night. He woke up at 6 a.m. yesterday and went ashore for some gasoline and breakfast.

Searches Shore Line
When he returned an hour later the boat was gone. Scheel said he spent the rest of the morning searching the shore line for the boat. It wasn't until about 1:30 p.m. that he gave up the search and reported the loss to police.

Participating in the dragging operations were marine units from: Bucks County Rescue Squad, Bristol Heights, Cornwells, Union of Cornwells Heights, Croydon, Edgely, Tullytown, Newportville, Bristol Number Three and Six Fire Companies as well as units from Burlington, Palmyra and Beverly, N. J.

The Bucks County branch of the Muscular Dystrophy association of America will meet at the William Penn Center in Fallsington at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

New Teenage Boys' Club Planned Here
A new club for Levittown teenage boys is being organized.

Ted Fagin, 17, 12 Oaktree drive, said a general meeting will be held at the Brook Park Pool on Sunday at 7:30 p.m. to which all Levittown teenage boys are invited.

The group hopes to form sports activities and consider other suggestions for recreation in Levittown that would interest all boys.

Men interested in serving as advisors of the club also are asked to attend.

Jerry Joseph, 39 Shelter lane, active in Philadelphia sports circles, will conduct the Sunday meeting. He was associated with the Brownsville Boys club in New York.

Falls Lawyers To Meet With County Men

Bucks County Solicitors will be asked to make a ruling on whether or not the blast furnaces of the U. S. Steel Fairless Works should be assessed for taxation.

Following a bi-partisan meeting of Falls Township representatives with the Bucks County Commissioners yesterday, plans were made for the Falls Township Democratic party solicitor Samuel Snipes and Township school board solicitor Sidney Cadwallader to meet with Bowen and Vallmont, the county solicitors.

Snipes charged that under state law, blast furnaces should be assessed and not be tax exempt under a machinery classification. Cadwallader agreed with the charge.

Increase If Favorable
Milton Berkes, Falls Township Supervisor, said the blast furnaces are not being assessed. He said there is a possibility of a several million dollar increase in the steel plant's assessment for 1957 if the ruling was favorable.

He said that Commissioner Welsh yesterday revealed he had pressed for a $25,000,000 assessment of the Fairless Works in 1953 when he was minority commissioner on the County board.

Berkes pointed out that the steel plant's current assessment is only a little over $22,000,000 now, although additions and improvements have been made on the plant during the last several years.

Immediate Action
Commissioner Welsh said the re-assessment of the entire county should begin next spring and be completed in two years. The Falls Township group has been pressing for immediate re-assessment of that municipality to raise needed tax money.

The representatives asked that Falls Township be assessed first and not have to wait for the rest of the county's municipalities. Commissioner Welsh said the municipality would try to do the critical municipalities first.

Republican Minority Commissioner Tom Lewis said Bethlehem Steel plant was used as a yard stick in estimating the assessment of Fairless Steel.

Berkes pointed out that the Fairless Plant was built only recently when construction costs were higher and should be valued much greater than the Bethlehem plant, which is many years older.

L'town, N. J. Date Slated

The first homes in Levittown, N.J. are expected to be ready for occupancy in September of 1957, it was reported today.

An administration building and three sample homes nearby may be ready in February of next year.

The proposed 17,000-home community will be located entirely in Willingboro township covering some 4000 acres of land. Recent legislation has made possible a shifting of municipality boundaries there, placing the proposed development in one township.

The administration building reportedly will be located on the east side of Copic lane, facing Route 130, on the Joseph Snyder farm. The sample homes are expected to be built on the west side of Copic lane on the Quentin Walton farm.

The first houses for occupancy are reportedly planned for the Robert Stuart farm near the present Willingboro Township school. A huge wooded section nearby has been cleared by bulldozers.

2 Cars Collide At Intersection
An intersection collision was caused yesterday afternoon when two cars collided at Beaver and Prospect avenues, Bristol.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Anthony Piazza, 41, of 922 Wood street, Bristol, attempted to make a turn into Prospect avenue and collided with a vehicle driven by James Harris Sr., 67, of 9 Iris road, Indian Creek, Levittown.

Patrolmen William Burns and Gaspar Favoroso said the damage to both cars was considered minor.

who received oxygen and first aid for smoke inhalation and cuts were:

George Roeschen, chief; Don Roberts, assistant chief; John Tarbuton, Edward Smith, Morton Helling and Al Johnson, all oxygen; John Thorpe, cut hand, and William Jordan, lacerated finger.

After extinguishing the blaze, which burned through the floor of the room, charred the walls and scorched the ceiling, the Trevese company stood by until 1:30 a.m.

The fire, according to the Trevese company, was confined to the one room.

The Tally-Ho Inn, which was chartered by King George and is one of the oldest in the county, was closed and boarded up in 1953, when the turnpike was constructed.

Cause of the fire is still undetermined, and damage was not estimated. A probe was ordered when it was discovered several boards were removed from across the front door.

County Fire Marshal Raymond Strunk will assist in the investigation.

Fire broke out in the damaged room on the second floor, above the staircase. The room was empty of furnishings.

Negotiations

He said that does not rule out the possibility of action "if bargaining efforts break down."

The industry negotiators conferred with top executives of the 12 major steel companies in New York Tuesday. But John A. Stephens, U.S. Steel vice president and chief industry negotiator, said the secret conference was to re-examine the deadlocked contract dispute, rather than to draw up a new peace proposal.

Following the conference this morning in Washington, Murray Snyder, assistant White House secretary said "Anything that causes unemployment or an extended disturbance of the national economy is a matter of concern to the President."

Snyder said Mr. Eisenhower was assured by U.S. Mediation Chief Joseph F. Finnegan, who has been meeting separately and jointly with the union and companies for the past week, that both parties "are determined to make every possible effort to reach an agreement at the earliest practical time."

The closed door session in New York was described as a "review" conference which was attended by the presidents or chairmen of 12 major steel companies.

Big Three negotiators — the U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel corporations — reported on "the whole picture" of the deadlock to the heads of the nine other steel producers.

Residents Will Be CD Radio Critics

Bucks Countians will be shrilled to a halt Friday afternoon in the nation-wide civil defense exercise. Later, they'll turn radio critics to report on the effectiveness of the Conelrad Civil Defense broadcast.

Col. A. M. Heritage, County CD director, said the Red warning, a signal to "take cover," will be sounded at 1:55 p.m. Friday. A three-minute wailing sound on the sirens, the signal will direct all persons off the streets, into shelter areas.

The White "Alert" signal will be given at 2:05 p.m. by a three to five-minute steady blast. In this test it will signal the end of the drill. In an actual enemy attack, the White signal means "stay put until it is safe to come out."

Clear Traffic Lane
Persons in their homes or in public buildings when the signal sounds must draw the window blinds, curtains and shades, Colonel Heritage said. Automobiles must stop, on the Red signal, pulling to the side of the road and leaving a lane clear for traffic.

Conelrad, the Civil Defense radio, will be the only broadcast on the air from 4:10 to 4:25 p.m. Lower Bucks County residents have been asked to report to state Civil Defense headquarters on its reception. A form that can be used for this purpose has appeared in the Bristol Courier and Levittown Times.

Zoning Board Chairman Named
William O'Neill, 231 Blue Ridge drive, Levittown, was elected chairman of the Bristol Township Zoning Board of Adjustment last night.

Mr. O'Neill, who was appointed to the post last year, was nominated by Owen Kidd, 117 Winder drive, Winder Village, who had just completed a term as chairman. Joseph Dooley, 66 Vineyard road, Levittown, the third member on the board was elected secretary.

Authority Bldg. Project Starts
Workmen started clearing ground for the new office building of the Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority today.

The planned one story, masonry building will be located on Newportville road on the same lot as the authority's water tower, near Levittown parkway.

The work on the building is being done by Levitt and Sons, Inc., which was the low bidder for the construction work.

Carnival To Have Music, Dancing
Music and dancing is planned as an added attraction at the Levittown Jewish Center Men's Club carnival to be held on Route 13 from July 30 to Aug. 4.

The carnival committee announced plans to build a dance floor and hire a band for the event.

The carnival site is located next to the Frankford Lumber Yard.

The Conelrad broadcast may be tuned in on 640 or 1240 kilocycles.

Township CD Maps Plans

About 35 residents attended a reorganization meeting of Bristol Township Civil Defense program last night in the Bristol Township municipal building.

The meeting was called by Fred Hibbs, a member of the township Safety committee who is attempting to "get the program on its feet" following the resignation of Stanley Zober, former director.

Mr. Hibbs reported that the group went over about ten applications for the director's post and reviewed the status of CD organization.

He said the communications group is still intact from the former CD organization. This, he said, is being handled by a group of ham radio operators. Also, he said, some auxiliary police have been carried over from the old CD group.

Under the new organization the township fire companies and first aid and emergency groups will be co-ordinated with the CD program. He explained that they will remain separate groups but co-operate with CD personnel during alerts.

VERMILION HILLS HAPPENINGS

By Selma Von Blum

WI 5-1341

Here we are, back from vacation, lighter in purse, but you should see our collective tan! Cape May was just wonderful. We had perfect weather, the ocean was calm and warm, the beating was such fun, and we all had a wonderful time.

Fred and Florence Pommer and their two children, Vividleaf lane, will take a trip to Chicago and will also spend some time in Indiana next month.

By the way, Florence Pommer tells me that a very nice three wheel tricycle has been sitting outside of her house. It is red and white and looks quite new. Are any of you folks missing a tricycle? Give Florence a call. Her number is WI 5-2492.

Robert and Julia Fields, 64 Viburnum lane, are having a delightful time at Miami Beach, Fla.

Lois Thompson, Vividleaf lane, will spend a week in Pittsburgh visiting her folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck, Valentine lane, are away on their vacation, also.

Mrs. Scheffer, 85 Village lane, is home after being hospitalized. We hope you are feeling better.

We were so happy upon our return home to discover the Vermilion Hill playground had opened at last. It is located right off Village Turn in a clearing in the woods and it is always so nice and cool under those big trees. They just received their swings, sliding board, and monkey bars. The children have been going there every day and it really is a wonderful advantage for Vermilion Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Chick Oberst, 62 Kenwood drive North, entertained weekend guests recently. They were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Potter and Mr. John Walther, Philadelphia.
